SUB-IRRIGATION Will Not Regulate the Rains,

But it will do what is equal to that, because by our system you can irrigate your land if it needs water or you can drain the land if it is too wet. If you are perfectly satisfied with your crops, and the weather is never too wet or too dry to suit you, you need not read any further, but our sub-irrigation HAS brought increased crops to other truckers (ask anyone in Sanford) and it WILL do the same for you. There is no reason why you should not investigate this. Just drop us a postal card, and we will tell you all about it or have our man call. He is in Palatka every two or three weeks and we would like to have him talk with you. Write TO-DAY.

That the cattle have the undisputed "freedom of the city" was apparent to all who took an early walk down Central avenue last Monday morning. The bovine trade mark was spread all down the brick sidewalk from Austin's store to the postoffice corner, and we heard one man remark as he gazed at his crows' shoes, "damned cowanyhow." But most people like cows—they are so sort 'o pastoral. And then again cattle have some rights.

The young people's meeting at the Methodist church each Sunday evening is attracting the young people of the town in great numbers. The young people of the church recently organized an Epworth League, and one of the members usually acts as leader. The young people from all the churches are attending the meetings, as this is the only night religious service in town during these two mid-summer months.

Mark Booth, an old timer in these parts, but who returned some months ago after an absence of some ten years, is again fitting into the life of the town and all are glad to have him back. Mark Booth's father once owned several hundred acres north of the town, and it was there that Mark was born.

Miss Lillian M. Appleby, for the past four years a popular teacher in the Crescent City school, has been offered and has accepted the position of teacher of the Fourth grade in the St. Augustine high and grammar school, and has notified Superintendent Tucker, at the same time withdrawing her application for her old grade in the school here. Miss Appleby's new place is quite a promotion and there is considerable advance in salary.

Miss Jane B. Bowman has declined the proffered principalship of the Crescent City Junior high school, preferring her old place as assistant and its freedom from the greater responsibilities.

The list of teachers for the coming school year will therefore be as follows: Principal, Miss Amy R. Kendall of Reddick; assistant, Miss Jane B. Bowman; Miss June E. Brown of San Mateo and Miss Daisy Brooke of Oviedo. Miss Kendall was principal of the junior high school at Reddick last year, and has been one of the instructors at the Stetson University Summer Normal school.

The musician club will give a porch social and musicale to-night at the home of M. H. White, the broad porches of which overlook the lake, from which will be wafted cooling breezes. And it will be moonlight, and all the prettier for that. Mrs. Benham, who has the arrangements in charge and who will be hostess, assures the News that a specially attractive program will be given, with such artists as Messrs. Pipe, Carrier, A. E. Lounds, Illig, and Misses Herlong, Waterman and others. Ice cream will be served. An admission of 10 cents will be charged and the cream will be extra and at the usual price—the money to go to the benefit of the club, which recently purchased a piano for use of the school and public at the auditorium.

The M. H. Read real estate agency has sold to J. C. and E. M. Atkinson of Montreal, Canada, for Messrs. Cook and Middleton, 27 acres on the west side of Lake Stella, between the Exchange packing house and the junction, 8 acres of which is in grove. This property is best known as the Jenkins property, as the grove was long the property of the late Dr. E. E. Jenkins, and is now one of the most promising properties in that section. Mr. E. M. Atkinson was here last winter and for a time made headquarters at the Turner House. He was very much impressed with the place and determined to secure a grove property. Since his return home he has interested his father, Mr. J. C. Atkinson, in the venture with above result. Mr. Atkinson made many friends during his stay here, especially among the young people, with whom he was a social favorite. His promised return will be hailed with pleasure by the young people, especially. Mr. Atkinson will again make his home at the Turner House.

Col. G. T. Graham appeared before the town council at its meeting last week and made an argument in favor of opening Cedar street through the Williams grove, that being the point at which direct connection would be made on the south line of the grove with the Seville road. Col. Graham was fortified with a petition signed by some 60 odd tax paying citizens who are anxious for the opening. There is now no way by which country people or those driving to the south can enter or leave the town to or from the south except by the Prospect street drive, which takes them in the west end several blocks out of their way, and now that the Crescent Hill property is fast building up the opening of this street is considered essential. On Saturday the council went in a body out to view the proposed opening, and it is understood the body is solidly in favor of the plan. It is not known how Mr. Williams will view the proposed opening, which will cut through his beautiful grove, but all interested are hopeful that a friendly arrangement can be made satisfactory both to him and the city. Certain it is that the road has now become almost a necessity to the growth of the place, as a large part of the town is now cut off from egress or ingress from or to the Crescent Hill addition.

Mr. Burton's Address.

Mr. R. P. Burton, of Tampa, general manager of the Florida Citrus Exchange, made an address at the Auditorium last Tuesday morning at 10:30. The meeting was well advertised by posters at the postoffice for several days, and yet the attendance was very small. There appears to be little interest in the Exchange in Crescent City. But it will come.

Mr. Burton is a business man. He makes his points terse and rapid. He explained the necessity of organization and the Exchange's plan of work, and argued that only by organization could the orange growing industry in Florida be brought to its old time profitability. The News regrets it cannot give Mr. Burton's address in full, but it has the greater regret that it could not have been heard by every orange grower in this section.

That he understands somewhat of the difficulties of the local organization was apparent by his remarks concerning it, which were in the nature of advice to get together. The Crescent City Exchange is at low ebb. What the fault is the members know. But when the state organization has been able to demonstrate in a practical manner its value to the growers in other parts of the state, then will it be possible to organize a strong Exchange here.

When you feel lazy, out of sorts and yawn a good deal in the daytime, you can charge it to a torpid liver which has allowed the system to get full of impurities. Haughton.

Still Worse.

Two young ladies were talking the other day about a third who had just become engaged to a widower who plays the cornet and has four children.

"What could be worse," exclaimed one, "than four children and a cornet?"

"Nothing," said the other, "excepting perhaps six children and a trombone."

LAKE COMO.

Ben Comfort of Waycross, Ga., spent several days here the guest of Mrs. Blood and son.

A "Silver tea" was held at the residence of Mrs. J. D. Mitchell recently. Mrs. R. H. Blood being the hostess. Quite a number were present in spite of a heavy shower. Cake and tea were served.

Clester Middleton of Long's Station and Mr. Cook of Crescent City were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Raybon, Sunday.

Our highly esteemed resident, Alfred Yeardeley, is very ill at his home, here—a trained nurse is in attendance and he has the best attention, but continues very feeble. The Comites hope he will soon recover.

The people of Como were quite shocked to hear of the death of Mrs. Force, at her home at Montclair, N. J. Mrs. Force's husband and daughter, Miss Agnes, have spent several winters here and are at present erecting a beautiful home, on Lake Como. Mrs. Force was a lovely woman and endeared herself to every one here. The Como people extend their heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved family.

The Como station has been recently painted which adds greatly to its appearance.

Mrs. R. H. Blood and son gave a launch ride to a number of friends, to Hack Creek and St. John's Park in honor of her guests, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Comfort and niece, Miss Mildred Carson, of Waycross, Ga. It is a delightful trip up Lake Crescent, and they had a most delightful day, in spite of the hot weather. A fine dinner was served, and all done justice.

Services were held at the M. E. church Sunday morning. A duet, by Mrs. J. D. Mitchell and C. C. Sullivan was beautifully rendered. C. C. Sullivan led a very interesting League meeting in the evening.

A bad taste in the month comes from a disordered stomach, and back of that is usually a torpid liver. A condition which invites disease. HERBINE is the remedy needed. It corrects the stomach and makes the liver active and regular. Price 50c. Sold by Ackerman-Stewart and J. H. Haughton.

Lost Vessels.

"Tommy, my son, at last you have asked me a question I can't answer. There are limitations to your father's knowledge."—Chicago Tribune.
